CABLE LETTER.

Queen Victoria's Quarters on the Continent Described—Distinguished Physicians.

Chatty Bits About Bismarck's Successor in the Chancellorship of Germany.

New York, March 25.—Edmund Yates' London letter to the Tribune says: The Queen will hardly recognize Villa Victoria when she reaches Aix-les-Baines as the maison meublée where she stayed in 1887 and 1888. The house has been considerably altered and enlarged and entirely redecorated and refurnished. A private telegraph wire has been placed in the room in which Sir Henry Ponsonby is to work. The Queen's bedroom and sitting room are both very spacious, and the views from the windows are magnificent. Most of the bedroom furniture has been sent from Windsor. Dr. Brachek of Aix-les-Baines has been lately in England, and I hear he had more than one interview with Sir Wm. Jenner, and the Queen and Princess Beatrice are to be under his charge in conjunction with Dr J. Reid, her majesty's resident physician. The Queen will not take the baths, but is to content herself with massage treatment, from which she derived much benefit three years ago.

The Berlin correspondents of the London press have dilated on the physical resemblance between the new chancellor of Germany and Prince Bismarck. There is a striking likeness in one particular which has not been pointed out. Nothing astonishes those who see and hear the late chancellor for the first time so much as the apparent incongruity between his physique and the weakness of his speech. General Von Caprivi, on the other hand, has a clear sonorous voice, strengthened by much use in the open air. It was in the summer of '66, in the Bohemian campaign, that the general first came into notice. He was entrusted with the revision of all telegrams to newspapers. While taking care to satisfy his superiors he was not less successful in winning the favor of the newspapers, even in those representing democratic views. The Emperor has made a good choice in his new chancellor. He will not attempt to overshadow the personality of his master, whose purpose is not to diminish his own brilliance by employing an ambitious, clever minister. The general, moreover, is a bachelor.

The Bismarck gatherings, where in the midst of the small circle of parliamentarians the prince played the part of king, will be known no more, nor will those famous diplomatic dinners on the old Emperor's birthday, when he would light the cigarettes of any plenipotentiary whose favor was to be cultivated, be seen in the old Princess garden room again.

Lord Hartington who was to leave yesterday for Brindsi, will stay for a week or ten days on the Rivera before returning to England, and will meet Lord Salisbury there.

Lord Salisbury, has, it is rumored, instructed Sir P. Anderson to give way at Berlin to the German claims to Stevinson road, thus taking the German frontier of Africa back to that of the Congo state. This concession will bar our way northward from the south Africa British sphere to the eastern British sphere, and is much to be regretted.

Catalogues Ready.

Catalogues are now ready for Joshua Davies clothing sale to be held at the auction rooms, wharf street, to-morrow.

The Pan-American conference has received a report from the committee on ocean communication which makes an interesting recommendation. It advises subsidies to one or more lines of steamships to ply between San Francisco and Valparaiso, with vessels of 4000 tons capacity, the amount not to exceed 30 cents per gross registered ton for each 1000 miles sailed. The plan is only in skeleton and no opinion can be formed until the report is given to the public.

A Chinese disciple of Confucius, in the course of a sermon to some of his people in New York recently, referring to a Chinese convert to Christianity who had committed forgery, declared that such crimes among the Confucians were unpardonable, and that their rule is to roll the forger up in a mat and make him stand on his head until every dollar obtained by the forgery is returned with compound interest. Just what would result if the money had been spent, and the forger unable to pay, was not stated.

AMERICAN NEWS.

OBJECT TO DUTY.

New York, March 25.—A large number of dealers, jobbers and importers of foreign fruits and lemons and oranges, sent a petition to the committee on ways and means at Washington to protest against increase of duty on oranges and lemons. The petitioners claim that the bulk of imported oranges and lemons are sold to working classes in tenement districts and sent to points where none of the Florida fruits reach on account of its high prices. They assert no injury will be done to domestic trade by its present standard and that the increase of duty will be to tend to drive them out of business without doing the home fruit growers any good.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Nogales, A. T., March 25.—John G. Lynn, a baker, was arrested this morning while in the act of setting fire to a frame house adjoining his bakery. Two similar attempts had been made which attracted suspicion against Glynn, because he was heavily insured and had within the last two months spent nearly everything he had in dissipation.

SALMON CANNING SYNDICATE.

Portland, March 23.—The cannery men here are beginning to think that the negotiations which have been in process for some time for the sale of the canneries along the Columbia river to an English syndicate, will not amount to anything. The syndicate have options on nearly all the canneries, so the matter is in their hands.

The great trouble with the salmon packing business on the Columbia river has been that the cannery men would not pull together, and so the fishermen's union has been able to dictate prices.

A scheme is on foot to form a corporation, including as many cannery men as possible, with a capital stock of $3,000,000, so that the interests of the cannery men will be identical. All cannery men are said to favor this plan except Hume & Kinney, the only thing likely to prevent the necessary sum to wipe out the indebtedness of several cannery men.

HARRISON'S PROCLAMATION.

Washington, March 24.—The president has issued the usual timely warning against unauthorized persons killing fur-bearing animals, such as seals, marten, mink and sable in Alaska or Behring sea. All persons found violating the law are to be arrested and punished according to law, and all vessels so employed, together with their cargoes and outfits, will be seized and forfeited.

DROPPED DEAD.

Baltimore, March 25—John S. Harden, treasurer of the Western Maryland railway dropped dead in the Farmers and Merchants National bank this afternoon.

FLOODS SUBSIDE.

Pittsburg, March 24.—Both the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are now subsided and the flood is now merely a memory of a big scare. Many thousand dollars have been lost in this vicinity, but these losses were caused by the stoppage of the iron mills along the rivers and by the entire stoppage of traffic on the Pittsburg & Western road. Down town merchants report a great loss in goods stored in cellars, and up river farmers complain of flooded lands. The highest water was twenty-four feet six inches, reached last night in the Monongahela river. It is now but 21 feet. Some of the railroad tracks and mills are still flooded.

"AN EYE FOR AN EYE."

San Francisco, March 25.—Ah Wing, a Chinese shoemaker, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Hay Ah Ging, a highbinder, early this morning. The wounded man is a friend of Lee Chuck, who killed his fellow-countryman about four years ago, and on whose behalf his society made such a desperate fight that they managed to get him off with a verdict of murder in the second degree. The murdered man's friends worked as hard for the death penalty, and as Chinese code demands, "an eye for an eye," this morning's shooting is the result of their disappointment.

IRON MOULDERS' STRIKE.

The executive committee of the Iron Moulders' Union sent a message to Senator Sanford, anticipating his reply to-morrow. The committee when questioned as to the contents of the despatch was very reticent, but it is rumored that it was sent in order to get the senator to use his influence on behalf of the strikers in Union Works, in which he is said to have an interest.

PREDICTIONS.

San Francisco, March 25.—Fair weather in eastern portion of country, and local rains in the western portion is predicted for British Columbia, Oregon, and Washington, till to-morrow morning.

AN OFFICER DENOUNCED.

New York, March 25.—The grand jury came into court to-day and handed a long presentment to Judge Fitzgerald, in which the sheriff's officer was characterized as a disgrace to this city and a shame to civilization.

A BALLOT REFORM BILL.

Albany, N.Y., March 25.—Governor Hill, in a communication with the legislature regarding the Sexton ballot Reform bill, recommends that a joint resolution be passed by the legislature respectfully requesting the court of appeals to convene at their earliest convenience to examine the measure and express their opinion informally as regards the constitutionality of the provisions thereof.

UNION PACIFIC EARNINGS.

Boston, March 25.—The Union Pacific February statement, preliminary, shows gross earnings of the entire system, $2,375,774; increase $216,715; net earnings, $571,513; increase, $8021. The expenses increased $208,694. The net earnings for January and February were $895,917, decrease $285,974 from same period last year.

WORLD'S FAIR IN 1893

Washington, March 25.—The House agreed to the amendment postponing the World's Fair until 1893.

A PRIEST DEAD.

New York, March 25.—Rev. Father Arthur J. Donnelly died suddenly shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, at his home, 383 Ninth street. Donnelly succeeded Dr. McGlynn in St. Stephen's until a permanent successor was appointed, when he returned to his own parish of St. Michael's.

A Correction.

Russell McDonald & Co.'s first half yearly drawing will take place on June 20th instead of July, as stated in last night's issue the first prize is one hundred dollars and second fifty dollars, and there are twenty valuable prizes in all.

For Shabby Things.

For beautifying all sorts of surfaces, wickerware, wood, metal, earthware, china or glass, there is nothing equal to a good enamel, if such can be obtained. Aspinall's is highly recommended by those who have tried it. If you have a shabby set of furniture, the appearance of which you wish to improve, or some old jars or bottles you desire to turn into parlor ornaments, try a tin of it.

EUROPEAN DISPATCHES

Interest in the Great College Boat Race Getting Very Lively.

European News of More or Less Importance—Boulanger Again.

THE COMING RACE.

London, March 23.—The interest in the Oxford and Cambridge boat race exceeds that of recent years, and increases as the days approach, owing to the fine work done by both clubs, and the remarkably fast time made in their daily practice. Latest betting, 11 to 10 on Oxford.

GLASS WORKS BURNED.

Canton, Ohio, March 25.—The Canton glass works, one of the largest and most successful in the country, were destroyed by fire this morning. Estimated loss about $60,000. Insured $40,000.

GERMAN TROUBLES.

Vienna, March 25.—It is rumored here that Count Kalnoky, imperial minister, has suggested a conference between Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph, and King Humbert, as the only means of restoring tranquility to Italy and Austria. Concerning the situation arising from Bismarck's resignation, it is hoped that Emperor William will consent, and bring with him General Caprivi, the new chancellor. Contrary to published report that no efforts seemed to be made to induce Bismarck to retain the chancellorship. It is now said thousands of letters and telegrams have been received by him, not only from Germany, but from all parts of the world, urging and beseeching him not to resign.

HANGED.

Zanzibar, March 25.—A slave dealer named Swahilibon has been hanged by the German authorities for attempting to embark slaves at Bagamoyo.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

London, March 24.—Mr. Balfour introduced the government's bill for the purchase of land in Ireland, the purpose of which was to improve the poorer and more congested districts. He declared that some agreement was necessary in order to increase the number of occupying owners in Ireland, and urged its practicability by reason that land was cheaper in Ireland than in England. He refuted the policy of excluding landlords from a rural social life taking the ground that in England landlords contributed to the well-being of those who were not landlords. There are now, he said, five bodies for the valuation and sale of land. This bill provides to amalgamate them into one. He denied that there was any warrant for the suggestion that the introduction of the Land Purchase Bill was compulsory, except through necessity for such a measure. If the landlords were compelled to sell the tenants ought to be made to obey. The government saw no possibility of instantly transferring the lands from the owners to the occupiers. Some degree of British credit could be used to secure the landlords against loss, though the British taxpayer should have no risk. The bill encourages landlord and tenant to bargain as to the price of a holding. If they failed to agree the question of price was referred to the land department officials, which, when they fixed the conditions, must be adhered to. (Parnellite laughter.)

NEW EXTRADITION TREATY.

London, March 25.—The British extradition treaty with [illegible] was published this afternoon in the official Gazette. The treaty goes into operation on the 4th of April.

WANTS TO GO BACK.

Paris, March 25.—General Boulanger has again offered to return to France if the government will permit him to be tried by a court martial or a court of appeal.

MORE HONORS.

Berlin, March 25.—Prince Albert Victor, son of the Prince of Wales, has been appointed by the Emperor an honorary major of the Blutcher Hussars. The Prince of Wales is honorary colonel of the same regiment.

THE QUEEN TRAVELS.

London, March 25.—The Queen accompanied by the Princess Beatrice sailed to-day for Cherbourg, en route to Aix Les Baines. The sun was shining brightly.

BISMARCK'S TEMPER.

Berlin, March 25.—Herr Richter's radical organ describes Prince Bismarck's present frame of mind as "a white heat of passion." He is said to be enraged at the calmness with which his final resignation has been regarded by the nation at large, and the discovery that his personal importance to this era of European progress is not thought so great by others as by himself. It has thrown him into a violent temper, so it is stated. Bismarck has bought a villa in Sellinsland and intends to reside outside of Germany.

ORIENTAL ITEMS.

Large Fires in Japan—Boycotting Among the Coreans.

San Francisco, March 25.—The steamer City of Peking, arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama this morning bringing following advices:

An appeal is being made by influential gentlemen in Canton for funds to start an asylum for the insane in China. Lunatics are neglected and often cruelly treated by the Chinese.

The Rogue brothers, captured by bandits near Haiphong are about to be released on payment of $50 000 ransom.

Gen. Viscount Torio of Japan, while at Kyoto on the 3rd inst., refused an interview with two men who thereupon attacked him with cudgels inflicting slight wounds. The assailants were arrested and a small sword was found concealed on one of them.

A fire which started in the premises of a firewood and charcoal dealer on the 20th ult., in the town of Asaku a Japan destroyed over fourteen hundred houses. There was one fatality and fifteen firemen received injuries. The following day thirty-six houses were destroyed in Nihonmatsu and one man was killed.

The native storekeepers in Seoul, Corea, shut up shop recently for three days and would not sell anything until their Japanese and Chinese competitors were expelled from the city. The foreign minister and the native government smoothed the matter over.

PRESS COMMENTS.

What the Kamloops and Westminster Papers Have to Say.

Inland Sentinel:—The promised special edition of the TIMES was issued on Wednesday last, and the publisher is certainly to be congratulated on its excellent appearance, and on the highly entertaining and instructive matter it contains. The interests and resources of Victoria particularly, Vancouver Island in general, and the province at large are fully set forth, and if a wise and judicious system of circulation is adopted the special number is bound to work good for the province. We congratulate the TIMES, and trust the enterprise will reap the appreciation and reward it so richly deserves.

Columbian:—As it has been threatening to do for some weeks past, the Victoria TIMES issued its great 20,000 edition special number on Wednesday last. The paper, a copy of which has come to hand, without, strange to say, delaying the mails or sinking the Victoria-Westminster ferry steamer, is just three times the size of the TIMES' usual daily issue, and contains, besides the ordinary news of the day, a great deal of interesting special matter, descriptive of the capital city and Vancouver Island, with a brief running notice of the other unimportant sections of the province. Other features, are several very presentable illustrations of some of the fine churches and other handsome buildings for which Victoria is famous, a full page lurid (literally red) real estate advertisement, a number of special articles on subjects of general provincial interest, and a few mild whoppers, excusable, perhaps, under all the circumstances. The TIMES explains that its special issue does not attempt to be provincial in its scope, but to give a concise and comprehensive statement of the resources of Victoria. The number, it must be said, fulfills its object well, is creditable to the enterprising publishers, and its large circulation abroad cannot fail to prove of much benefit to the capital city.

NANAIMO STARTS OUT.

Agricultural, Horticultural and Industrial Association Formed.

Last evening a large number of the citizens of Nanaimo and farmers and others resident in the district met at the council chamber in that city for the purpose of forming an association to promote the establishment of an annual agricultural, horticultural and industrial show.

The need of such an association was pointed out, as was the great good that would accrue from it. The matter appeared to find much favor with those assembled, and after the meeting had endorsed the scheme the following officers were elected: President, Samuel M. Robins, Esq., Manager Vancouver Coal Co; First Vice-President, John Hilbert, Esq., Mayor City of Nanaimo; Second Vice-President, Alderman James A. Abrams, Esq.; Secretary, E. M. Yarwood, Esq., solicitor; Treasurer, Geo Cruickshanks, Esq., Manager Bank British Columbia. Directors.—Ald. W. M. Hilbert, Ald. Edward Quesnell, ex-Mayor John Pawson, ex-Mayor Mark Bate, Mr. A. Haslam, M.P.P., Mr. G Thompson, M. P. P., Charles York, farmer, Alex. Mayer, merchant, Henry Grew, miner, Joseph Metcalfe, miner, David Hardy, merchant, James Beck, farmer.

After the election of the officers the books were opened for membership and over fifty names were put down at the meeting. Subscription lists have been prepared, and as the management is in good hands there will be no doubt but that the association will be a pronounced success. A committee to draw up the constitution and by-laws was appointed which will submit the result of its labors at a meeting to be called in two weeks, when the same being adopted the association will be incorporated. The first show will be held in September next.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. E. Richards, Q. C.)

A varied assortment of drunks and other law breakers peered over the dock rail this morning, and bobbed up serenely as their names were called by the clerk of the court.

Three dissipated old klootchmen were each fined $5 for an overindulgence in bad gin.

Ah Hoo and Ah How, two Mongolians, were fined $5 each for creating an unseemly disturbance in the calm and quiet streets by screaming horrible Chinese epithets at each other. They will most likely in the future do their deriding in private and out of earshot of the police.

W. C. Anderson was charged with an infraction of the health by-law, but by request the case was adjourned for one week.

John McKelvey, a worthless looking squaw-man was charged with supplying liquor to Indians. As the charge was conclusively proven the prisoner was consigned to the tender mercies of the officers of the provincial jail for three months, where he will be initiated into the mysteries of the chaingang drill.

Wah Sing, a guileless Chinaman, who has been trying to run a business without paying the license fee provided by law, was fined $2 costs, and ordered to at once procure the necessary license.

E. A. Morgan, a useless white man who appears too lazy to work willingly for wages, was convicted of vragrancy and sent up for one month and will be made to work for his board.

CENTRAL AMERICA NOTES

Excavations and Discoveries Made—Mysterious Murders.

New York, March 25.—Central and South American mail advices to March twenty first say that a party which has been exploring a supposed ancient Peruvian burial ground at Majequis found innumerable skeletons of human piled in regular order, and in apparent accordance with some religious ideas. Other indications have shown they were working near the base of a buried temple and not in a grave yard, as they have revealed smooth green basaltic blocks underlying beautiful granite in blocks of enormous size and chiseled with great elegance. The work of transporting these blocks must have been very arduous, as the old quarries from which they were cut are fully two leagues away. The explorers found about 30 feet from the temple a wall of sun dried bricks, beautifully ornamented and covered.

The recent discovery of over a hundred skeletons under the flooring of a room occupied by Colonel Mora, commandant of Paza, Costa Rica, under the administration of President Zeldirar, has already been reported in these dispatches as well as the common belief that they were the remains of massacred enemies of the president. The scandal concerning the affair has been intensified by the mysterious burning of the palace and the government believes the fire was set with a view of precluding further investigation. Several Pinkerton detectives have been engaged from the United States to take the case in hand.

House of Commons Barkeeper Fined for Illicit Selling.

THE FUTURE OF MANUFACTURING.

Through the clouds of dust raised by the conflict between the Knights of Labor and the Serfs of Capital, says PETER TOWNSEND AUSTIN in the North American Review, certain rays of light are beginning to shine out and to illumine the scene sufficiently for those whose eyes are trained to observe some of the principles that are involved, the tendency of the movement and the probable result of the turmoil. Whatever may be said to the contrary, technical experts well know that the manufacture of articles consumed in great amounts cannot be carried on profitably on a small scale. The enormous scale on which the manufactures of sulphuric acid, soda, iron, etc., are conducted allows of an organization and systematization of the detail of the manufacture that result in the ability to handle these substances in larger quantities with fewer hands; and it permits the use of mechanical time and labor saving appliances, and the utilization of waste heat and side-products which would be entirely lost if the manufactures were conducted on a smaller scale. As sulphuric acid is used directly or indirectly in the production of a majority of manufactured articles, any fluctuation in its cost of production will soon make itself apparent in the price of other products. Should sulphuric acid become more costly to make, muriatic acid would also increase in value and hence would also "bleach." A direct result of this would be an increase in the cost of paper; and this, again, by increasing the cost of books, would increase the cost of education. Conversely, a decrease in the cost of the manufacture of sulphuric acid would lessen the expense of popular education, and consequently increase the productive power of the community by making it cost less to educate its children.

Finding that the manufacture of articles on a large scale gives a greater chance for profits, while, at the same time, in many cases, the articles can be sold at a lower rate, thus increasing the sale of them, manufacturers have frequently combined their plants, forming great stock companies or syndicates. So far as these combinations of capital have been confined to the simple enlargement of the manufacture, with its consequent increased opportunities for organization, systematization and handling of substances on a large scale, the result has usually been satisfactory—i. e., the articles have been sold more cheaply and the profits have been better. But when such combinations of capital have been used illegitimately, either to support unscientific methods of manufacturing, to control values dishonestly, or for other reprehensible purposes, then, while the profits have been greater, the public has been the loser.

Each manufacture is not an independent enterprise, as some may think, but it stands in certain fixed relations to certain other manufactures; is, in fact, as it were, a part of an organism. If one part be injured, all the parts will be more or less affected. As manufactures of certain articles increase in size, they consume certain smaller manufactures which produce articles out of substances that are discarded by the former as side products. That is, it pays when a manufacture reaches a certain size, for it to work up its own adjuncts, side products, residues and wastes. Thus at a certain size of some manufactories it pays to start a box-factory and a paint mill, unless the convenient production of these articles is also existing on such a large scale that they are cheaply produced already. Five hundred horse-power can be produced cheaper by a single engine than by fifty ten-horse-power engines. Heat is cheaper when made on a large scale and distributed than when made on a small scale, because there is much less waste. A gas works furnishes gas to the consumer cheaper than he can make it for himself on a small scale, and so on ad infinitum. The relations that exist between the various manufactures are often very apparent, and if these relations are not taken into account, failure or trouble is sure to come in time. For instance, a great many products can be made from coal, gas, ammonia, coke, paraffine, benzole and carbolic acid; and many substances can be made from certain of these coal products, such as aniline colors from the benzole, fertilizing salts from the ammonia, waxed paper from the paraffine. But it is evident that it would not pay to distil coal simply to get enough paraffine to make waxed paper. It is also evident that to distil coal simply to get coke, whereby the benzole, paraffine, carbolic acid, ammonia, gas, and tar products are all lost, cannot long remain a profitable manufacture. Yet this is what is being done when coke is made as a chief product, which is the case with the coke ovens of Pennsylvania and elsewhere. To make the coal industry of the greatest value to the community, all its products should be utilized. The tar should be worked up into benzole to afford the basis for colors, perfumes, etc.; its carbolic acid should be separated for use as an antiseptic and a base for colors; its naphthalene should be collected; the gas should be stored for distribution to afford light and heat; the ammonia should be saved for use as a valuable fertilizer and source of ammonia and ammonia salts, thus making cheap ice possible, and cheap ice means cheap refrigeration, which means cheaper meat and cheaper fruit. The consideration of what will be the condition of affairs in the happier time when men can provide for their material wants without paying the entire day's labor to them is an extremely interesting question. Whether this means the repression of over population or the actual elimination of individuals who are not worthy to be continued, and the consequent survival and development of the higher mental and spiritual powers of man, it is impossible to say, but it seems as if the tendency was in the direction of limiting the population in overcrowded communities at least. This is a subject, in Mr. AUSTIN's estimation, well worthy of the consideration of eminent thinkers.

THE NEWS AND DECENTRALIZATION.

The attitude of the News on some of the questions of the hour is one that may well excite provincial congratulation. The leading paper in a large and growing constituency, a constituency in no sense afflicted with mossbackery, it can exert a powerful influence for good or evil, and relatively this influence will be felt throughout the entire province. All persons, no matter what their political preferences may be, provided they have the welfare of the province at heart, will agree that a mainland paper, independent in its political affiliations, and outspoken in its sentiments, bespeaks a wiser and more thorough administration of political affairs. No political combination, however powerful, can afford to board a hostile press. Just so sure as the press turns its guns on a government, just so sure must that government either modify its policy or succumb to the storm of public opinion which will be aroused. Hitherto, journalistic opposition of the government has been confined to one paper, and the government, confident in its overwhelming majority has dared to pursue a policy which it must have shrunk from had there been an out-and-out opposition journal on the mainland. Probably in no country was there ever such a spectacle presented as seven newspapers out of eight, as was the case last year, supporting a government through thick and thin, for better or worse, without rhyme or reason, without regard for common sense, and the government feeling secure in such support not only dared to abuse the power of the majority, but taunted the opposition with the hopelessness of its attitude. These remarks are prompted by the News' latest fulmination, entitled "Educational appropriations." In this article, the News explains that it advocated the school tax imposed on the four principle cities in the province for the reason that it "considered the action was the insertion of the thin edge of the wedge which would, when driven home, cleave asunder the present system of centralization, and complete government control, which is based upon the fact that on the government alone is placed all the burden for school expenditure." The TIMES is not prepared to say whether the means justify the end in this case, but it does congratulate itself that there is one other journal in this province which essentially agrees with it, that the department of education is virtually a political machine and that it is desirable that it be broken up. It has dawned upon the News, as it must have dawned upon anybody who has undertaken to reason for a moment, that the "present system of centralization and complete control" of the Department of Education can have no other animus than that of exerting political leverage. Let us quote the News at greater length as showing its attitude in the matter: "Decentralization, as complete as possible, consistent with the uniformity of the system throughout the province, which is necessary for the children's welfare, indispensable for justice to the teachers and vital to the attainment of the best results for the expenditure, and the throwing of the chief burden for the support of the schools on the communities in which they are situated, at least in the cities and more densely populated districts, have been the main features in the future school system of British Columbia which we have proposed in the face of the opposition of almost the entire province." But while the TIMES agrees with the News that decentralization is impossible to insure efficiency in the Department of Education, the school tax impost to those who have no political prejudices to conserve will seem but a very blunt and clumsily executed wedge. The supreme court has declared it constitutional, and possibly the supreme court is right, but if it is there is something wrong with the constitution. Nobody objects to the tax as a tax for the support of schools, but the precedent is a bad one, and might be made the handle to some grievously bad legislation at the hands of a few venally inclined politicians. The means do not always justify the end. It is only under the most extraordinary circumstances that recourse should be had to methods of doubtful equity, and it will be admitted doubtless, that the exigencies of the case in this instance were not extraordinary. Instead of imposing a tax of doubtful constitutionality, the legislature should have boldly tackled the question of decentralization, and have solved it. It should have occurred to them that the government had a double object in view, that of strengthening their own hands under the guise of a public blessing. However, it is superfluous to discuss this subject farther. The government that is will soon be a dead letter, a cold, clammy, political corpse. It will pass into the condition of simple citizenship with a record of self-seeking, of incompetency, and of lost opportunities such as before has seldom fallen to the lot of governments. If the people see fit to reelect these gentlemen—for every mother's son of them will stand again—if the people chose to surrender the prerogative of governing themselves, of intrusting their affairs to a gang whose methods are only excused from knavery by their clumsiness, well and good. If the people can stand it the TIMES certainly can.

Strange to say the pamphlet entitled "Parnellism and Crime," that was once so freely circulated, is now by no means easy to obtain. There is no copy of it in the House of Commons library and the copy that was once in the Reform Club library has also mysteriously disappeared. By the by, the author of the pamphlet, Mr. Woulfe Flanagan, who was a candidate for election at the Athenæum Club, has to-day been so severely blackballed that his proposer and seconder will almost feel themselves compelled to apologize for submitting his name to the club.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Important Amendments to the Municipal Act by Mayor Grant and Others.

MONDAY, March 24.

In committee on the estimates the chief commissioner of lands and works replying to a question by Mr. Semlin, stated that there was not $8000 available for carrying on the work of boring artesian wells in the dry regions. He stated that experimental borings would be made in the different districts of the province. A contract had already been made with a Mr. Ross, who was to use the machinery at present in the hands of the government, and receive $3 per foot for the work.

Mr. Semlin said when visiting Oyster harbor last year that he understood from the party superintending the boring for coal there, that the company he represented would consider one dollar per foot sufficient inducement to send out machinery for the work.

After passing the greater portion of the estimates by items, the committee then rose and reported progress, and asked leave to sit again.

It being six o'clock the speaker left the chair.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. Speaker took the chair at eight o'clock.

When the vote of $682.85 to make good the delinquents of H. B. Roycraft came up, Mr. Beaven said the loss under this head was an unknown quantity. The public accounts up to the 30th June, showed that he did not owe the department anything at that time when he had actually money belonging to the province in his possession.

All the items being passed the committee reported.

MUNICIPAL ACT.

On further consideration of the report on this bill (Hon. Mr. Beaven), it was moved to amend section 96 by adding thereto the following sub-section: "(121) For purchasing, acquiring, holding, managing, maintaining land, or improvements, or both, for the purpose of a fire hall, or hals, within the municipal limits. (122) For purchasing, acquiring, holding, managing, maintaining land, or improvements, or both, for the purpose of a site for a free public library, or a partially free library, within the municipal limits."

Hon. Beaven explained that he did not consider it advisable to grant the power to a municipality of expropriating land for the purpose named in the amendments. If the land was required it was fair for the corporation to purchase in open market in the same manner as a private individual.

Col. Baker required if the acquiring of land for a drill shed was provided for elsewhere in the act.

Hon. Mr. Beaven replied that provision was made for the purchase of land for the purpose referred to.

Col. Baker thought that it was in the public interest to provide that land for a drill shed site might be expropriated.

Hon. Mr. Robson said that for once during his public life he could agree thoroughly with the leader of the opposition. He considered it was only fair and just that a corporation should be required to purchase land for a drill shed site as a private individual would.

Mr. Grant said that the law governing expropriation of land fully protected the interests of the individual, and compelled a corporation acquiring the land by the process to pay a fair and equitable price.

The Hon. Attorney General said that he did not approve of allowing the expropriation of land for cemetery or fire hall purposes. It was argued that land required for a drill shed in Victoria was at present locked up, and could not be obtained by ordinary purchase. In this case special legislation might be necessary.

The amendments were incorporated in the bill.

Mr. Croft moved to insert the following subsection to section 96: "(4a.) For subsidizing by way of bonus, or by guaranteeing the payment of bonds or of the interest on bonds of, such line or lines of steamships or steamboats as shall establish, within or without the municipality, a port of call or the terminus of such line or lines." The honorable member for Cowichan explained that it might produce great good to give municipalities the power aimed at in the amendment. For example, if Port Angeles were made a railway terminus, with a ferry service to Victoria, the city of Victoria might become the final terminus of a great trans-continental road.

Hon. Mr. Robson and Hon. Mr. Vernon condemned the amendment as capable of placing in the hands of a municipality powers which might be greatly misused, and which were of a far more than municipal scope. The bonuing of a steamboat line might be more than a Dominion, it might be an international matter.

Mr. Cunningham endorsed the premier's remarks.

Hon. Mr. Davie could not see that it was placing greater power within a municipality to enable them to bonus a steamboat line, than, as now, it was to allow them to assist railways. No city could grant the aid suggested in the amendment unless by the expressed wish of the majority.

Mr. Grant warmly supported the amendment, and coincided with the honorable attorney-general in his remarks.

Hon. Mr. Turner was of the opinion that the ratepayers of a city could protect their own interests. He did not see where reasonable objection could be taken to the resolution.

Hon. Mr. Pooley supported the amendment, which he considered nothing more than fair and reasonable.

Hon. Mr. Vernon thought that the incorporation of the amendment offered might so damn the whole act as unconstitutional.

The amendment was carried without a division.

Mr. Grant moved the insertion of the following new subsection in section 168:

"(24) From every express company, gas company, telephone company, electric light company, street railway or tramway company, investment and loan societies, fire dealers or fire traders, a sum not exceeding fifty dollars for every six months."

Hon. Mr. Davie said that he did not intend to oppose the amendment, but he doubted if its constitutionality would stand testing.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Grant moved to insert the following as a new section:

(1) If on account of a sum being on hand from a previous year or years, or from the investment of the sinking fund, or on account of the increased value of property liable to assessment, it is found to be unnecessary to levy the full rate imposed by the by-law in order to raise the instalment of the sinking fund and inter st required to be raised for any year, or the rates such instalments for any future year of the then unexpired time which the debentures have to run, the council may pass a by-law reducing the rate for such year or for any such future years, so that no more money may be collected than the amount required. No such by law shall be passed unless, having regard to the time the debentures have to run, a proper proportion of sinking fund and interest has been levied, according to the intention of the original by law.

(2) No by law passed under the preceding section shall be valid unless, after it is passed, it is approved by the Lieutenant Governor in council, and the facts which authorized the passing of such by-law shall, on its submission for approval, be verified by solemn declaration by the head of the council, and by the treasurer and clerk thereof in case of the death or absence of such officer, upon the declaration of any other member of the council whose declaration the Lieutenant-Governor in council may accept.

The amendments carried.

Mr. Grant moved to insert the following as another new section:

"In any case of passing a by-law for contracting a debt by borrowing money for any purpose, the municipal council may in its discretion make the principal of the debt repayable by annual instalments during the currency of the period within which the debt is to be discharged; such instalments to be of such amounts that the aggregate amount payable for principal and interest in any year shall be equal, as nearly as may be in what is payable for principal and interest during each of the other years of such period, and may issue the debentures of the municipal corporation for the amounts and payable at the times corresponding with such instalments, together with interest, annually or semi-annually, as may be set forth and provided in the by-law."

"The by-law shall set forth a certain specific sum to be raised in each year during the currency of the debt, which annual sum shall be sufficient to discharge the several instalments of principal and interest accuring due on such debt as the said instalments and interest become respectively payable, according to the terms of the by-law; and in cases within this section it shall not be necessary that any provision be made for a sinking fund."

The hon. member for Cassiar explained his amendment at considerable length.

Hon. Mr. Beaven considered the acceptation of the amendment would not be desirable. Although he knew the hon. member for Cassiar had given the matter long study and careful consideration he could not endorse his amendment.

Hon. Mr. Davie thought the acceptation of the amendment would make the borrowing of money much more expensive to the municipalities. The principle involved was the same as that in the B. C. Investment Co's mortgages, which appeared advantageous on their face, but which was in reality a means of obtaining from the borrower the worst kind of compound interest.

Mr. Grant was convinced that the municipality is sustaining loss under the present system but as the opinion of the House is against the amendment I will withdraw it with leave of the House.

Leave was granted, and the amendment was withdrawn.

The House then arose, reporting progress, and asked leave to sit again, which was adjourned to Thursday.

COAL MINES REGULATION.

Hon. Mr. Vernon introduced a bill intituled "An Act to alter and amend the Coal Mines Act." Bill read a first time

SHUSWAP RAILWAY.

The Attorney-General moved that a bill entitled "An Act to Aid of the Shuswap and Okanagan Railway Company," be reported to the House. He explained that the subsidy to the road was to be $250,000 and not $150,000 as the bill was made to state through a typographical error.

Hon. Mr. Beaven asked what was the length of the road.

Hon. Mr. Robson—About 51 miles.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—About 51 miles and through a comparatively level country.

Hon. Mr. Robson—There will be a good deal of rock cutting to do.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—If my information is correct the road will not be difficult to construct and should not cost more than seven or eight hundred thousand dollars.

Hon. Mr. Robson said in that case the guarantee would only be on that amount.

Bill reported and read a first time.

LAND REGISTRY.

Hon. Mr. Vernon introduced a bill intituled "An Act to further amend 'The Land Registry Act.'" Bill read a first time.

COLUMBIA & KOOTENAY.

The Attorney-General moved that a bill granting a subsidy to the Columbia & Kootenay railway be reported to the House.

Mr. Semlin—The same old bill.

The Attorney-General—Yes the same old bill only in better shape than before.

Mr. Semlin—It always passed the House.

Bill reported from committee of the whole to the House and read a first time.

ASSESSMENT.

Mr. Duck moved the second reading of his Assessment Bill, which he explained was to prevent a double assessment. Income derived from real estate was taxed, but income derived from personal property was not taxed. But real estate also pays a tax according to the amount of the assessment and therefore paid a double tax while personal property went almost free. The bill was to prevent the imposition of this double tax on real estate.

Mr. Semlin—Is the bill in order?

Mr. Speaker—I am of opinion it is not, as it deals with the revenue. If I were to rule off hand I would rule that it was not in order.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—I am of opinion that the effect of the bill will be to make clear the law as it now stands. I contend that this is not a reduction of revenue. The courts have already decided that the tax on such income cannot be collected.

The president of the council argued that the bill was not in order interfering as it did with one of the government's sources of revenue.

Mr. Speaker ruled the bill out of order.

ROYAL COLUMBIAN HOSPITAL.

Hon. Mr. Robson moved the second reading of a bill to enable the trustees of the Royal Columbian Hospital to sell certain lands. The old hospital was not in a suitable location, a new one was built

A DANGER SIGNAL.
A Cold in the Head may be aptly termed a danger signal, warning you that if neglected that dangerous and disagreeable disease, Catarrh, is sure to follow, perhaps leading to Consumption and the grave. At no season of the year is Cold in the Head more prevalent than during the Spring months, and at no season do the people of this country suffer more generally from troubles; but apply NASAL BALM, the only remedy that will give instant relief and effect a thorough cure. The following testimonials from among thousands in our possession bear witness to its sterling merit.
Alex. Burns, Sudbury, Ont., says: I may state that I have been affected with Catarrh seven or eight years, and it was attended by consequent symptoms such as foul breath, constant dropping into the throat, hawking and spitting, partial deafness, ringing in the ears and sickening pains in the head directly over the eyes. I have used paradyne and opodeldoc, but able to get no permanent relief. I was induced to try Nasal Balm, and find it the most agreeable and effective remedy I have ever used. I can recommend it to all sufferers as a perfect remedy.
L. D. Dion, Dept. Railways and Canals, Ottawa, says: I am very glad to give you to-day the testimony that Nasal Balm has completely cured my catarrh, from which I suffered for nearly three years.
W. H. Sharp, of Treherne, Manitoba, says: I am delighted to be in a position to say that NASAL BALM is helping me wonderfully. IT HAS GRADUALLY CLEARED OUT THE HEAD, and STOPPED THE DISGUSTING DROPPINGS INTO THE THROAT. For some time I have suffered severely from catarrhal hopelessness. NASAL BALM has removed every trace of it. I have recommended it to several friends who have used it to their benefit, and I feel it my duty to add my testimony to theirs.
It is flowing of all your claim for it, "A Positive Cure for Catarrh. Easy and Pleasant to use." I hope it will soon be for sale in every town and village in Manitoba.
D. Derbyshire, Mayor of Brockville and President of the Dominion Creamery Association, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for Catarrh and Cold in the Head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

Isaac Waterman, Imperial Oil Co', Petrolia, Ont., says: Nasal Balm gave me the most perfect satisfaction of any medicine I ever used for Cold in the Head. I found it easy to use, quick in giving relief and effecting a complete cure in a couple of hours.
Mr. John H. Adams, merchant, Brantford, says: I have used Nasal Balm for Catarrh, and found it to be a certain cure.

—A peculiarity of the Vancouver World is that it always aims, when bowing and scraping, hat in hand, before the public, at stabbing one of its contemporaries. Apparently that "uncontrolled" journal believes that it can only live and thrive through the death of one or more of its successful rivals. It does not place any faith in its own excellence as a newspaper, and therefore does not hope long to survive the evanescent twaddle that daily fills its columns. Alas, poor World!

Street Cars a Public Boon.

Owing to the convenience afforded by the new street cars, the undersigned have decided to reduce their prices for city tuning.

Single tuning $2.50, four times a year $8.00.

From Our Favorite Baritone.

Dear Sir:—The piano bought from you a year ago for the Young People's Association of the First Presbyterian Church, has given satisfaction in every way. The test has been a severe one, the instrument having been in the school room subjected to all kinds of temperature with only a slight "flat" over. The organist, Miss Stephen, as well as the various instrumentalists who have used it are united in praising its action and tone. I can only add that I enjoy singing a song, when the accompaniment is played on a "Goodwin."

Yours faithfully, JOHN G. BROWN,
Choirmaster First Presbyterian Church, Victoria.

I have much pleasure, after thoroughly trying the Goodwin & Jordan pianos, in testifying to their excellence, sweetness of tone and smoothness of touch, the latter reminding me of the best concert grands, manufactured in England and America, and for an upright piano I consider the Goodwin & Jordan one of the best I have met with during my extended travels.

Yours truly, ADA HEINE.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 7, 1889.

The above and other testimonials may be seen at the factory, Corner Fort and Broad streets. Telephone 98. GOODWIN & CO.

Steamboat Notes.

The Northern Pacific Co.'s steamer City of Kingston will commence running to this port on the 15th of April.

What is now needed, and it is asked for every day, is a steamer between Victoria, Anacortes, Whatcom, Fairhaven, Sehome and other ports in the northern part of Washington. It is believed that if a smart little steamer made regular trips to these places that she would do a good business, as the distance is comparatively short. Some enterprising steamboat owner will no doubt recognize before long that there is an opening here and place a boat on the route.

The "Crush" in Germany.

The young Kaiser's late expression of German absolutism will go down in his tory: "I shall welcome everyone who helps me, but those who hinder my work I will crush." It seems to be a variation of the motto of Cardinal Richelieu, "All means to conciliate; failing which, all means to crush." The crushing of Germany, however, as shown by the late elections, is destined to be upward, as well as down. It is hoped that out of the maceration between Imperialistic and Socialistic forces will come, not chaos, but national wellbeing.

A Case of Cruelty.

A bad case of extreme cruelty to animals was noticed to-day. A driver of a team of horses hauling earth from an excavation on Douglas street, flogged his team unmercifully because the animals could not pull an overloaded wagon up a muddy steep into the street. The owner of the team was near, and instead of reproving the driver for his cruelty, took a hand at whipping the unfortunate horses himself, much to the pain of several tender-hearted people who saw the incident. It was remarked that if the slumberous S. P. C. A. had knowledge of the case the inhuman horse beater might be made to answer for his cruelty in the proper court. One or two solid fines imposed in these cases of needless beating might have the effect of making drivers more merciful.

The Chinese Retaliate.

The white laundry men of the east having combined to freeze out Chinese laundrymen. The Mongolians have become much excited over the matter, and 35,000 of them in New York city alone are using every effort to counteract the movement of the white men. Washing will probably be cheap for a time.

The Money Returned.

Some days ago the citizens of Seattle sent to San Francisco $5,000 as a relief fund for the unemployed of the latter city. The mayor of San Francisco has returned the gift to Mayor Moran of Seattle, and while expressing thanks for the generosity prompting the sending of the cash, declined to accept of it.

We claim to have more snaps on bargains in our store than you can find in any other, and although we are not prepared to give them away, yet we will exchange them for such a small consideration in the shape of coin that it will positively astonish you. Presentation of Medals.

This evening the medals won at the wrestling tournament given by the Victoria Athletic club, will be presented at the club's room. The public are cordially invited to attend, and an entertainment will be given by the members of the club after the presentation. The new athletic appliances recently purchased by the club will be used in the exhibition.

Information Wanted.

A gentleman of this city has received a letter from Mr. Wm. McKinnell, of Pine Valley, Union county, Ore., asking if any news of his son Percy McKinnell can be obtained. The young man was at one time an assistant engineer on the steamship China, running between Frisco and Japan. He is believed to have left for Victoria, but no trace of his whereabouts has since been obtained. Any news of him would be thankfully received by his relations.

Flower Social.

There was a very appreciative audience in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. last evening, on the occasion of the flower social given by the W. C. T. U. The proceedings opened with a few remarks by Mr. N. Shakespeare. The programme was as follows: Instrumental duet, Hall Bros.; vocal duet, Miss Campbell and Mr. Grant; recitation, Miss Hyams; solo, Miss Rossell; duet, Miss Howell and Mr. Kinnaird; recitation, Miss Kettle; solo, Mr. Firth. A social hour after the programme of music, was not the least pleasant portion of the entertainment.

Free Delivery in Victoria West.

The postal department has decided to extend the free delivery to Victoria West. Postmaster Shakespeare and Inspector Fletcher visited the suburb this morning for the purpose of having the limits defined and a suitable place selected for a letter box, which will also be put up. The free delivery will be inaugurated on the 1st of April and will take place once each day in the forenoon. Victoria West comprises, we believe, the territory lying east of Russell street which runs from the harbor to a point on Craigflower road, near Capt. Gaudin's residence.

Seventy-five cents will buy a dozen cakes of Pendray's Oatmeal Soap. You try it.

Over Production.

With a perversity of mind only to be entertained by a hen, the feathered egg manufacturers are now piling on the market a supply of eggs which is calculated to be ruinous to holders of stocks. The Westminster Truth says that the hens are undeterred by the great commercial industries engaged in the selling of pickled eggs at thirty cents a dozen, the hens of the east have been misled by the mild winter into turning out a supply of fresh eggs that has knocked the pickled and artificial egg business into a condition closely approximating a panic. We have not heard that any complaint of this state of affairs is made by consumers of eggs, but the proprietors of more antique stocks are plainly convinced that the interests of the country will be sadly injured if the public gets too cheap and too fresh eggs. A movement to put the hens into a trust which will restrict the foolish fowls to two eggs per week is the obvious remedy according to the economic policy of the day.

CASE OF THE MARY ELLEN.

Evidence Given Against Captain Dan McLean by the Crew.

The news that Capt. Dan McLean was to be tried at the provincial police court this morning for the attempted murder of one Thomas Cummings, a seaman on board the schooner Mary Ellen, drew quite a crowd of marine folks to the court room at 11 o'clock, where the prisoner was arraigned before Robt. Ward, J. P. Upon the information being read, the prisoner, through his counsel Mr. Chas. Wilson, pleaded not guilty.

The prosecutor, Thos. Cummings, deposed that he shipped on the Mary Ellen at San Francisco, but that he did not sign articles at all, being shipped by a boarding house "runner" to go as boat puller on a trip to Behring Sea seal hunting. Cummings stated that nothing of incident occurred, beyond that all hands were drunk, up to the 14th March, when he, together with two other sailors, were shaking a reef out of the jib, when a row occurred in which the captain called Cummings very vile epithets, and ended by striking the sailor over the head with an iron belaying pin, the effect of the blow being to knock Cummings senseless. At this point in the row the mate told another sailor to go and take the captain away from Cummings, who was bleeding considerably from the wound inflicted by the blow from the iron belaying pin. The row was then ended and the man ordered below by the captain, who had not in any way attended to the hurt or offered to do anything for the man. Cummings complained while giving his evidence that he was still suffering from the effects of the blow. He further stated that when the vessel arrived in port the captain had sent him on shore without any money, and for the past three or four days he had been wandering about having no place to go.

Andrew Williams, a sailor on the Mary Ellen, gave corroborative evidence.

At this point in the evidence a remand was asked for and granted until Thursday, prisoner to be allowed out meantime provided he can find two sureties of $1000 each and himself in $2000.

SUPPLY.

The report of committee of supply having been adopted, House proceeded to pass the items voted in committee of the whole seriatim.

Hon. Mr. Beaven asked for some explanation of the printing of the voters' lists and ballot papers, the Colonist office on the occasion of the last bye election in Victoria city.

Hon. Mr. Robson said the ballot papers could be printed anywhere, and the Colonist generally did the work.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—It was customary to print these ballot papers in the government printing office.

Hon. Mr. Robson—I think not.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—Oh yes, excuse me, it was. And now about the voters' lists.

Hon. Mr. Robson—I cannot give any explanation of that.

OKANAGAN RAILWAY.

Hon. Mr. Robson moved the second reading of a bill granting a subsidy to the Okanagan railway. He said a law was already on the statute books, authorizing the construction of this road. The object of this bill was instead of giving a bonus of $200,000 to guarantee 4 per cent interest on the amount of money required to build the road for 25 years.

REMOVING CHINESE.

A Drastic Remedy to be Applied in San Francisco

An ordinance has been passed by the Supervisors of San Francisco for the removal of the Chinese outside the city limits, and among those who can look at questions affecting this undesireable class of citizens with unbiased eyes the ordinance is regarded unconstitutional. The San Francisco Alta frankly says that the act is unconstitutional, alleging that if a state constitution or a state legislature can empower a city to exclude persons of any race from its corporate limits, it can equally empower the exclusion of persons of other races. It is doubtless true that the act is unconstitutional, and even if it were not it affords a dangerous precedent. There is a better method of getting rid of the Chinese than by acts of doubtful equity, whether within constitutional limits or not. It would not require a very great stretch of municipal conscience to declare the Chinese quarter in any city a nuisance, and as nuisances may be removed at municipal direction, why not this course in preference to an ordinance of doubtful legality. Give the Chinese the option of vacating their quarters or cleaning themselves up. Rid of the nauseating smells which are the accompaniment of all Chinese quarters and their presence is endurable. The stink, though, which is the rule with Chinese quarters is unendurable and should be proscribed as a nuisance. That the Chinese may be got rid of by declaring them a nuisance is in the highest degree probable. Even papers not unfriendly to them admit that they are not a sweet smelling lot. The Oregonian discussing the subject with reference to Portland wants to know "if there is no way to abate the filth and smell that are characteristic of Chinese quarters. The ill-smelling messes which form the stock in trade of the Chinese edible vender would not be any less disgusting to the sight or offensive to the smell of the people of the suburbs than they are to those of the central portions of the city. The only possible argument that could be advanced in favor of the transfer of these quarters to a more remote section is that fewer people would be offended by their presence, and this is so palpably unjust to the few who are to be imposed upon on account of numerical weakness that it can find no favor with a spirit of fairness that should rule in public matters."

It may be imagined that should an epidemic of fever break out in this city the question of declaring the Chinese a nuisance would invite serious consideration.

One dollar will buy a box of dozen bars of Pendray's White Castile Soap.

Coal Prospecting Licenses.

The chief commissioner proposes the following amendment to the "Coal Fines Act:" No coal prospecting license shall be issued over any Crown lands which have been leased, or in respect of which a timber license has been issued, unless and until due security be given, to the satisfaction of the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, for payment of any damage which may ensue to the leaseholder or licensee in respect of the operations to be carried on under such coal prospecting license.

Incorrect.

The item in yesterday's paper to the effect that the chimney of the Deluge engine house went afire is incorrect. Such an incident never occurred, but it was so reported by the party who informed the reporter. Some people think it is smart to give a newspaper man a tip to write up an item entirely wrong, but a lie is never smart.

At the City Hall.

The battery of the Gamewell fire alarm system, now being put in by Mr. McMicking, is being set up at the city hall, as that is to be the central station for the alarm. The original idea was to have the centralization at the engine house on Yates street, but as the city hall loft is the best place for the arrangement of the 130 cells required, the latter has been adopted in preference as a central station. To-day a force of men were busy unpacking the instruments and other gear connected with the system.
